

RMB CVRC Seminar

The Robert M. Berne Cardiovascular Research Center Presents

Miranda Good, PhD

Affiliation: Assistant Professor of Medicine, Molecular Cardiology Research Institute (MCRI) at Tufts Medical Center, Boston MA

Sex specific effects of endothelial Pannexin1 in cerebral vascular function and ischemic stroke

Our work examines the mechanisms regulating cerebral artery function in health and disease. We examine the role of endothelial Pannexin1, a critical regulator of purinergic signaling, in cerebral artery myogenic tone, inflammation, and ischemic stroke outcome. Additionally, we evaluate if expression of Pannexin1 impacts vascular function and disease outcome in a sex-specific manner.

Contact:

Mary Sheffer
Program Administrator

CVRC, UVA
MR5 1010
PO Box 801394
Charlottesville, VA 22908
434-243-9943

Mt3kx@virginia.edu

Thursday March 21st, 2024
11:00 AM-12:00 PM
MR5 Room 3005

Refreshments served
Hosted by: Brant Isakson